Rebecca Cary is a founding member of Childress Ahlheim Cary LLC and practices in the areas of general civil and commercial liability in both Missouri and Illinois. She regularly represents clients from the incident through trial in both state and federal courts. She has handled more than 15 jury trials.

Rebecca focuses on superior client service by responding to her client inquiries quickly and achieving the best possible results for them. She is involved in the Lawyers Association of St. Louis where she sits on the board as an executive member. She has been a speaker on various legal topics for continuing legal education to her peers and for corporate clients, insurance companies and their claims adjusters.
